Reading & Writing Section

1 次の英文を読み、後の設問に答えなさい。

Ryan Shwayder is a game designer. It can be an interesting job, but it isn't all fun. He has to work many hours and he doesn't make a very good salary. He has to play many games, but he doesn't enjoy all of the games. Also, he has to think about the games. Why is this one good and this one not so good? And he has to read many books about games.

Another job with computer games is a game tester. Maybe you think it's a great job, but it's really not so easy. A game tester doesn't play a lot of different games every day. Game testers work on one game until it is ready for the factory. So they have to play again and again, and they have to find the problems. They have to talk to other game testers. Do you think it's a great job now?

Some people work with games from home. They are called gold farmers. In some computer games, players can make money. This isn't real money, it's game money. They can use it to buy things in the game. Gold farmers play a computer game for many hours to make a lot of game money. But they don't spend their game money to buy things in shops. It's gold to them because other players, all over the world, buy the game money from them — for US dollars! Then the other players spend it in the games they play.
